Welcome to the start of a great year ahead! We had a great week getting to do teamwork building activities, started doing assessments to see what we all know, had fun cutting and pasting our names on apples and after we read Chicka Chicka Boom Boom book we made our own coconut trees! At mass everyone did very well for the first time! We took first day pictures, did an art project for religion, and started reading from the children's Bible with the beginning of the Old Testament. Welcome Back to School

We made it! The first week of school is complete and we can't wait to jump back in next week. I have enjoyed getting to know the students and look forward to working with them all year. Below you will find our first day of 2nd grade pictures.

The students have been working hard all week. I am proud of them! Don't forget to check your student's planner or the online planner for homework. If they are unable to finish work in class it will be sent home to be completed.

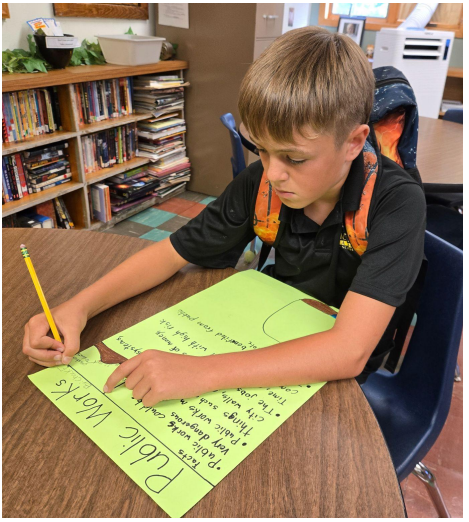
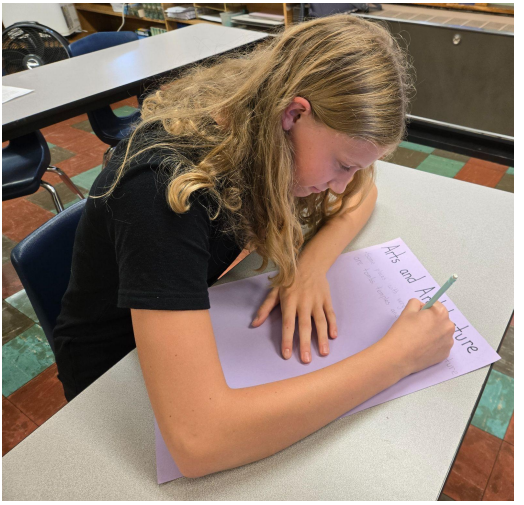
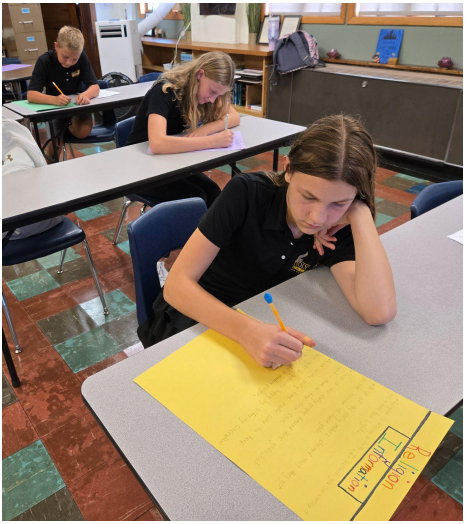
Mr. Zeleske ~ ELA and Social Studies

Welcome back to all my students, new and old! This week in ELA, the students started working on daily writings. They also learned about the genres we will cover first, as well as the literary elements of those genres.







In Social Studies, we talked about how farming led to the creation of complex societies. Here, the 7th and 8th grade students make posters detailing the 8 aspects of a civilization!

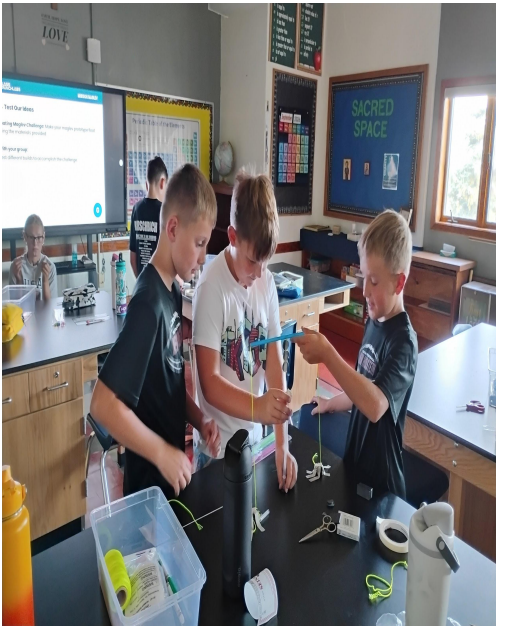
Mr. Hinshaw ~ Science, Social Studies, Religion

Welcome back! We began the year with the students and me introducing ourselves to each other and having a discussion on charity in the classroom. 5th and 6th grade got to do a science experiment of making objects float with magnets while 7th and 8th grade got to use microscopes to observe different types of cells. For Social Studies, 3rd-6th grade drew maps of their homes to get an idea of the various functions of maps.



Art Highlights

This week in art we talked about expectations for the art room and supplies for the year. We went over the basics, like how we don't eat glue or cut our friends hair! The foundation is set for a fantastic year in art.
